WHO AM I?

After 5 years of running my own company in the video/photography industry creating media for real estate agencies, I feel ready to take on new challenges. Learning is a critical part of this industry and as an open-minded person, this is not a problem for me.
During the last 5 years, I acquired a lot of new skills like flying DJI and FPV drones, directing people who never had any experience in front of a camera, and learning how to make the best possible lighting in any situation.
When you work as a Videographer the most important skill to have is being able to solve problems and be flexible, after all these years I can easily say I'm able to adapt to new situations.
